

SHIPPING ASSOCIATION OF JAMAICA (SAJ)
in association with
CARIBBEAN MARITIME INSTITUTE (CMI)

Presents one in a series of Short Courses

Essential Legal Principles of Commercial Shipping

Wednesday April 18th and Thursday April 19th, 2007—Shipping Association Complex, Newport West, Jamaica

The aim of this programme is to provide participants with a deeper understanding of international maritime law and key legal concepts involved in the transport of goods by sea. This accredited course will be conducted over 2 full days, offering 16 contact hours, and will provide participants with credits towards higher-level courses at the Caribbean Maritime Institute (CMI). On successful completion of the course, participants will be awarded a Certificate of Achievement.

Sessions include:

- Introduction to Maritime Law
- International maritime conventions and their effect on Jamaican law
- Bills of Lading
- The responsibilities and liabilities of key intermediaries in the transport of goods by sea
- Legal issues in the provision of harbour services
- Recent developments in US Maritime Law affecting Jamaica
- Ship arrest and detention in Jamaica

Presenter: Bertrand Smith, Attorney-at-law, Director of Legal Affairs, Maritime Authority of Jamaica (MAJ)
